ALMOST REACHED BLOODSHED

A CRISIS NOW AT HAND IN THE COAL REGIONS.

Band of Miners Collide With Fifty Deputies--Efforts Being Made to Dissatisfy Working Miners.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

PITTSBURG, PA., July 31.—In consequence of Sheriff Lowney's proclamation forbidding "assemblies on any public highway in Alleghany county or interfering with the police or any public officers," bloodshed was narrowly averted today at Plum Creek. A band of miners collided with fifty deputies, and it was only through the most strenuous efforts that a bloody conflict was averted. Both sides appeared determined, and had the conflict begun it is hard to tell what the consequences might have been.

The striking miners are putting forth every effort to cause Dearmitt's men to cease digging, and many of them have quit. Great excitement prevails in the vicinity of the Dearmitt mines.

One hundred and ten men quit digging in Sandy Creek mine today.

The strikers are ignoring Sheriff Lowney's proclamation, and are very angry at the way the Dearmitts hang on. They say they will get the working miners out by all means—peaceably if possible, forcibly if necessary. The worst is feared.

Heavy Gold Shipments.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

NEW YORK, July 31.—Out-going steamers to-day will carry a remarkably heavy shipment of gold. From the sub-Treasury here, alone, $3,200,000 dollars have been withdrawn for shipment. The reason for this unusual demand for gold is not very apparent. The treasury officials here, however, account for it by the fact that both Russia and Austria are making preparations to go upon a gold basis and the consequent large demant for gold, to take the place of the silver now in use in those countries.

Off For Alaska.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 31st—Samuel C. Durham, mining expert and statiscian, and employe of the Bureau of Labor, leaves to-day for Alaska. He goes, at the instance of the Bureau, to make a thorough investigation of the condition of the Klondyke gold fields. The result of his investigations will be reported to that department so soon as mail facilities permit.

Back in Gotham.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

NEW YORK, July 31st.—The American Liner, St. Paul, from Southampton, came into port this morning. On board were ex-mayor Thomas Gilroy and Whitelaw Reid, special United States Representative at the Queen's jubilee.

CHANGES AT THE POSTOFFICE.

Two Faithful and Popular Clerks Retire.

Postmaster Forbis loses two of his most valuable assistants to-day when Messrs. M. C. Stewart, mailing clerk, and Michael Schenck, general delivery clerk, retire from their respective positions.

Mr. Stewart has been in the postoffice a little more than three years, coming here in June, 1894, to take the position of general delivery clerk. By hard work and faithful application he worked himself up to the position of mailing clerk, a most responsible position in a large office like Greensboro.

He retires from the postoffice to go into business for himself, he being a member of the Greensboro Hardware Company.

Mr. Stewart will doubtless meet with the same success in this business as he has in other positions, for he has the business qualifications and energy necessary to success.

Mr. Schenck leaves to accept a position as teacher in Oak Ridge Institute, one of our foremost educational institutions. He has been in the postoffice since March, 1896, and has, by his uniform courtesy and promptness, won the good-will and esteem of the patrons of the postoffice.

Everybody who knows anything at all about the work of the position knows that the position of general delivery clerk is a hard one to fill acceptably to all concerned, but Mr. Schenck seems to have managed the position with more than ordinary acceptability.

Mr. E. B. Clapp, of Whitsett, will take Mr. Stewart's place, and Mr. Eugene Pool, a son of Rev. Dr. Pool, of this city, will fill the position vacated by Mr. Schenck.

A TRIBULATION HALL.

Mayor Binds Two Gay and Festive Colored Youths Over to Court.

The mayor had a light docket yesterday afternoon—only two offenders—but enough evidence was produced to send them on to court.

Harry Caldwell and Will Patton, two negro boys, were called to account for breaking into the grocery store of Charles Buchanan, the other night and making way with what money there was in the drawer—between $10 and $15—and purloining some cigarettes and other small articles.

The evidence was not sufficient to hold Patton, but Caldwell was bound over to the next term of the superior court under a bond of $100.

Thompsie Mendenhall also had a grievance against the two prisoners, claiming that they stole ten of her finest chickens from the coop the other night. She was very positive in her assertion, claiming that she had her chickens so marked that she could tell them among a thousand.

The evidence was so conclusive that both youths were locked up in default of bond to wait for the next term of court, when, in all probability, they will be allowed to contribute to the support of our county roads.

Still another case against these offenders was a charge from one Jennie Lemonds that Harry and Will broke into her house the other night and stole several small articles. From some unknown cause Jennie failed to appear in court, and His Honor instructed that she be locked up in order that she might be on hand this afternoon at 4 o'clock.

ONE HUNDRED MEN STRONG.

OUR FIRE LADDIES LEAVE TUESDAY FOR THE TOURNEY.

Greensboro Will Send the Largest Delegation of any Other Town in the Entire State.

Our "fire boys" will have their last practice on Monday afternoon, after which the apparatus and horses will be loaded, ready for shipment to Fayetteville, on the through freight, which leaves at 2 a. m., Tuesday. Greensboro will send five companies, with about one hundred men. They are the Steam Fire Engine Company. No. 1, with their steamer and hose wagon; the Eagle Hose Company, No. 7, and hose wagon; the South Side Hose Company, No. 4, with their racing reel and running team; the Hook and Ladder Company, No. 1, their truck and racing team, and the Junior Real Team under the supervision of Dr. J. W. Griffith. The boys are in good shape and we look for good returns from them.

Several ladies and visitors will accompany the party. Among them we notice the following: Mayor Jno. J. Nelson, who will respond to the address of welcome, on behalf of the Asiociation. Chief Jos. J. Stone and wife, Assistant Chief W. R. Pleasants and wife, Assistant Chief E. E. Bain and wife, Secretary E. L. Clark, Miss Daphne Carroway, daughter of the Eagle Hose Company, No. 7, and Misses Mary Wolfe, Susie Stone and Mayme Ferguson, of the Eagle Dramatic Club.

Our citizens need have no fear in regard to protection against fire during the absence of the Department, as ample arrrangements have been made.

The delegates from the different companies, together with the Mayor and Chief, will go down on the morning train Monday, and will be joined here by the Winston-Salem delegates, and those coming from the West. The remainder of the party will go down on the Firemans' Special via. C. F. & Y. V., which leaves Tuesday at 1 p. m.

Greensboro should feel justly proud of her Fire Department, as no city in the State has a department which can show a better record, or has a better reputation. "The boys" always reflect credit upon our city, wherever they go.

Some Dog.

A large, vicious looking dog of the Great Dane variety shipped by express to S. R. Lindheim, attracted a good deal of attention at the Southern depot last night. His dogship was as large as a full grown wolf and about as fierce looking.

The Great Dane is a species of dogs said said to be endowed with most powerful instincts. They are deeply attached to their owner and make a splendid guard and protector. The one shipped to Mr. Lindheim was a fine specimen of this variety.

One member was received into the Baptist church on profession of faith, at Wednesday night's service.

WILL UNCLE SAM RETALIATE?

A BIG GATHERING TO CONSIDER THE CANADIAN TARIFF.

Large Merchants and Other Prominent Business Men Attend---Indignation Felt.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

SEATTLE, Wash., July 31.—A meeting of big merchants and other large business men is now in session here to consider the matter of taking action against the Canadian authorities who are imposing regular duties on miners' outfits and provisions taken to Victoria en route to Klondyke.

Much feeling has been aroused against the Canadian authorities, and it is suggested that if this is to be the policy they are to pursue our government should at once move to retaliate and exact every possible payment from Canadian miners, and other outfitters in Victoria, passing through Uncle Sam's territory to reach Klondyke.

The steamer Cleveland, which is the last vessel to carry passengers to Klondyke by way of St. Michael's for the present, is here completing her cargo and arranging accommodations. There are one hundred and seventy-five through passengers, fifty of whom are from Eastern States.

COMING SOUTH FOR COAL.

Great Demand for Alabama Coal on Account of the Strike.

By Wire to The Telegram.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., July 31.—The Illinois Central and the Mobile and Ohio railroads, two the largest railways in the South and West, have come to Alabama to get supplied with coal on account of the great coal strike now on.

A big increase in the demand for coal is announced, and every mine in Alabama is working on full time, except the Blue Creek mine.

Bank Failure in Asheville.

By Wire to The Telegram.

ASHEVILLE, N. C., July 31.—There was considerable excitement in business circles here this morning when the report got abroad that the doors of the First National Bank would not be opened, by order of the directors. Its liabilities are not known. It is said that depositors will lose little or nothing, as deposits are secured by United States bonds.

We learn that Mr. F. A. Bergen, of this city, is a depositor.

Malakand in Danger.

By Cable to The Telegram.

SIMLA, July 31.—Latest advices from Camp Malakand indicate that the enemy is endeavoring to cut off the reenforcements now en route to that post.

Cuban Prisoners Pardoned.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

MADRID, July 31.—One hundred Cuban prisoners recently pardoned landed at Gibraltar today on their way to New York. The government organs are openly declaring that these men will re-join the insurgents in Cuba.

COUNTY OFFICERS ASSOCIATION.

A Successful Meeting of this New Organization at Morehead.

Sheriff Hoskins returned last night from Morehead City, where he attended the first meeting of the County Officers Association of North Carolina.

In conversation with a TELEGRAM reporter he expressed himself as being highly pleased with what he saw and heard. Notwithstanding the criticisms of this movemement that have come from some quarters, the Sheriff thinks it was productive of much good and that it will prove a great benefit to the county officers of our State.

The idea first originated with Hon. W. H. Worth, State Treasurer, and it was through his efforts the organization was perfected.

Sheriff Hoskins tells us that the discussions were of matters pertaining to the proper manogement of county affairs, and that all present exchanged ideas freely as to the best way to administer the affairs of their office economically and satisfactorily.

One of the principal addresses delivered before the association was one by Guilford's sheriff on "Solvent and Invisible Property and How to Secure the Listing."

We learn that it was a splendid address and well received.

Our sheriff had the honor of being elected vice-president of the association, with Sheriff J. J. Jenkins, of Chatham county, as president.

The place for the next meeting was not selected, but Sheriff Hoskins says there was a strong sentiment in favor of Greensboro.

FREIGHT TRAIN WRECKED.

Seven Box Cars Dumped--One Man, a Tramp, Killed.

A freight train going East was wrecked between University station and Durham yesterday afternoon; seven box cars jumped the track being smashed up badly. The wreck was caused by the draw-head pulling out of the front end of one of the cars.

It was thought that a tramp was caught under the wreck, as blood was seen. No member of the crew was injured.

A special was made up and sent down from here at 6:30 to transfer the passengers and mail from the Norfolk-Chattanooga Special. It arrived here at 9o'clock and carried the passengers on to Salisbury. The Winston train was held for the special.

Sugar Refinery Goes to the Wall.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

BUFFALO, N. Y., July 31.—The Buffalo Sugar Refinery Company has made a general assignment for the benefit of its creditors. The assignees are not yet ready to give out any statement as to the assets and liabilities of the defunct company. It is not known, as yet, who the largest creditors of the concern are. This was one of the few sugar refineries of the country that ran independent of the Sugar Trust.

Respite for Benham.

By Wire to The Telegram.

BATOVIA, N. Y., July 31.—Howard Benham, convicted of murdering his wife, was arraigned in court this morning. An immense crowd was present to hear sentence passed, but on motion of Benham's counsel, sentence was postponed until Auggust 23d. This was done in order to give his counsel time to present affidavits and make arguments for a new trial.

Successor to Colonel Grant.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

NEW YORK, July 31st—Mayor Strong to-day appointed General George Moore Smith Police Commissioner to succeed Colonel Fred Grant, who handed in his resignation yesterday. General Smith will probably accept.

The Tent Meetings.

The revival meetings to be conducted by Rev. J. W. Lee, the well known Irish evangelist, of our city, will begin with the Sunday evening service. The meetings will be held in a large tent that has been erected for the purpose on South Elm street, south of the railroad, and will, we understand, be under the auspices of West Market and Centenary Methodist churches.

Mr. Lee's ability as a preecher and power as a revivalist is well known, and the fact that he is to be assisted by Dr. Weaver and Rev. Mr. Gay will lend additional force to the meetings.

The music will be a special feature, the choir being made up from among the best voices in the different city congregations.

We hope that these meetings will be productive of much and lasting good.

Trinity High School.

We learn from Prof. O. W. Carr, a a member of the executive committee of Trinity High School, that arrangements have been perfected for the management of the school the coming year, and that Professors Vestal and Kirk will have charge of the institution. It will be remembered that Rev. T. A. Smoot, who has been head master of the school for two years, resigned recently to enter the active ministry of the Methodist church.

The new head masters are said to be most excellent and capable young men, and will no doubt make the school a succes. Mr. Vestal, we think, is from Randolph county, while Mr. Kirk is a native of Stanly county.

Trinity High School is located at Trinity, Randolph county, and is the prepatory school for Trinity College, Durham. It is under the control of Trinity College and managed by an executive committee composed of Prof. O. W. Carr, of this city, W. R. Odell, of Concord, and J. H. Ferree, of Randleman.

The New Publishing House.

Work on the new building on South Elm, to be occupied by the Methodist Protestant Church as a publishing house, is being pushed rapidly. When finished the building will be one of the handsomest and best equipped in the city.

Washington Progress: Mr. W. I. Underwood, who has been associate editor of this paper this year, has accepted a position on THE EVENING TELEGRAM, of Greensboro, and expects to leave for his place of duty tomorrow (July 29th). He has made many friends while here and we all regret to lose him from our midst. We wish him health and prosperity wherever he may cast his lot. He is a very worthy young man.

THE TELEGRAM.

With to-day's issue THE TELEGRAM begins its journalistic career. What it is, our readers can see and judge for themselves. We hope and believe they see it at its worst. What it is to be, they along with us must determine. It shall be our constant purpose to keep it in touch with all that is best in Greensboro; to hold up to our people an unclouded mirror.

There is nothing more certain than that a city is judged, outside of its own gates, by its newspapers; we shall be satisfied only when, in the eyes of the world, THE TELEGRAM shall do full justice to Greensboro.

THE President is to go for a cruise in Mr. Hanna's yacht, it seems. There be those who say it is not the first time that Mark has kept the Major "afloat." However that may be, we are all agreed that Mr. McKinley has earned a rest and we can only wish that the yacht may not be swamped by that belated tidal wave. If he had only seen fit to go cruising a month ago and had taken the congressional menagerie with him, sugar trust and all, he would have taken a rest and given one at the same time.

PRESIDENT SETH LOW of Columbia University, millionaire and philanthropist, is being urged as candidate for the Republican nomination for mayor of Greater New York has once deviated into respectability in municipal politics and the chances are the festive Gothamite will not be guilty of a similar lapse again in a hurry. The mere thought of Low in the mayor's chair has given all the plug uglies, from Tom Platt down, an ague.

THE pension thievery still goes on and each succeeding year sees the list of those who "do not live by bread alone," but prefer the government pap, grow longer. All the old soldiers are still alive, or represented by as many widows as the late lamented Brigham Young. Judging from the list of those "receiving injuries in battle" the average rebel must have broken more bones than a city butcher. Verily patriotism does come high these days.

ONCE more we are assured that the "tariff issue is settled." This time it is Secretary Gage who imparts the information. That may be so, but it leaves a ghost that for unappeasable sprightliness can give Banquo's spook points and then beat it hollow. Mr. Gage probably guaged his remarks by his Massachusetts audience.

WITH a weak man in the Presidency—and no one has ever accused Mr. McKinley of being a strong man—and a Secretary of State in his dotage, the prospects for foreign embroilment should satisfy the most virulent type of Jingo.

REPORTS from over the state reveal that popular opinion is opposed to the local school tax. Evidently North Carolina is too proud of her position at the tail end of the procession to swap it off.

THERE has been no effort made as yet to locate the responsibility for that eclipse. Tom Reed or Havemeyer—which was it? Let the calamity ululators speak out.

IF YOU receive a copy of THE TELEGRAM and are not a subscriber it is meant as a polite reminder of the little omission.

THE TELEGRAM gets the telegrams. Do you take it?

WITH BOOKS AND PERIODICALS.

How to Beguile Your Idle Moments and Heavy Half Hours.

[All books and magazines mentioned below may be had at Wharton's book store.]

Edward Bellamy has a new book out, Equality. It is a sequel to Looking Backward.

***

A very entertaining little volume is Uncle Benac, by Canan Doyle, published serially in the Cosmopolitan last spring.

***

Ian McLaren, of Bonnie Brier Bush fame, will publish a book, the Potter's Field, this autumn. It will not be a novel, but will be religious in tone.

***

They who read the House-Boat on the Styx will find the sequel to that delightful bit of nonsense, The Pursuit of the House-Boats in no wise disappointing. It ranks third in sales this summer, according to the publishers reports.

***

Mr. Du Maurier semi-posthumous novel, The Martian, which has been running as a serial in Harper's, is out in book form. The Martian has received neither the extravagant praise nor the unmerited abuse of Trilby and consequently has not the vogue of that novel. The Martian will be read merely because its author wrote Trilby.

***

Very different, indeed, is the popular Choir Invisible, by the prose Laureate of the Blue Grass. There is tragedy here, too, but it is the slow, silent, unobtrosive tragedy of the soul. Instead of being, as the former story, a plain, unvarnished tale, it is, like all of Mr. Allen's work, closely woven, finely wrought, sophisticated. The narrative drags rather tryingly at times, but there is the same fine appreciation of nature, the same power of subtle suggestiveness, the same wealth of color that has characterized the author's former stories.

***

The August Cosmopolitan contains the second part of Richard Le Gallienne's excellent rendering of the Rubaiyat of Omar Khayyam. The admirers of Omar's quatrains, who are by no means so numerous as they ought to be, and will be by and by, will not miss the opportunity of renewing acquaintance with them in their new guise; those who are strangers to the Persian poet will find this translation of his exquisite verses worth many times the price of the magazine. We are also presented with a new installment of Mr. Wells' daringly imaginative War of the Worlds. Mr. Wells displays his usual facility in troubling the fountain of cold chills. Julian Hawthorne contributes a second paper on the Famine of India, and President Dwight, of Yale, has a paper in the valuable series on Modern College Education that has been running through several numbers.

***

One of the most read books of the season is the Reds of the Midi, from the French of Felix Gras, with a very appreciative introduction by Thomas A. Janvier. The novel deals with the French Revolution from the Peasant point of view. Old pascalet, a Malemort peasant and member of the famous company from Marseilles, relates his experiences on the way to Paris, and while there. There is a directness and simplicity about the narrative that brings out the scenes of that lurid drama with a sort of horrible reality. The story goes straight forward and the reader is left to do his own philosophizing. Dealing with the French Revolution there is, necessarily, plenty of movement and gore. In the creature La Jacarasse, the author embodies the repulsive part played by woman during the days when Paris was in the hands of the canaille. The Reds of the Midi is a distinct contribution to the literature of the Revolution, and in it M. Gras does for that memorable struggle what Zola did for the Franco-Prussian war in La Debacle.

***

The place of honor in the August Harper's is rightly given to a story of the west by Frederick Remington. Mr. Remington's superb drawings, too well known to need description, would, apart from any merit of the piece illustrated, entitle him to that place. Both as a writer and illustrator Mr. Remington is thoroughly at home on the plains of the west. Some of his phrases, however, strike one as being somewhat more strong than elegant, as where he says "nature had slobbered all over the Sergeant"—a figure that is scarcely likely to become classic. Richard Harding Davis has an article on the Inauguration—in Mr. Davis' usual style. Part third of Stockton's Great Stone of Sordis also appears and F. Hopkinson Smith contributes the Hungarian Millenium, full of the charm of which Mr. Smith is master. The article is illustrated by ten drawings of prominent features of Buda-Pesth, that of the Great Fountain being especially fine. The tenth paper of Poultney Biegelow's White Man's Africa is up to the high standard of his former papers. The poetry of the number is simply—magazine poetry.

STILL THEY COME.

This Time Greensboro Will Draw on Wilmington.

Mr. M. B. Shrier, of Wilmington, has leased the building just vacated by Darden. The store is to be fitted up anew for him and he will occupy it about September 1st. Mr. Shrier has been connected with one of the leading firms of Wilmington but has sold out his business there and is now at Blowing Rock taking a rest. He goes North in a few days to lay in an elegant line of footwear for the fall trade.

Mr. Shrier says he is pitching his tent here because people down Wilmington way "regard Greensboro as the coming town." A warm welcome awaits all such as he.

The New Commercial Club.

The Katz building, opposite the Benbow House, is nearing completion. Architect Woodroffe has had supervision of the work. The entire second floor, containing seven rooms, will be used as the quarters of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Club. There will be reading, pool, card, smoking and bath rooms. When completed and furnished, these rooms will be second in their appointments to none in the State. This club already numbers among its members the majority of the leading citizens of the city and it will undoubtedly add greatly to the social and commercial life of Greensboro.

Out of the Ashes—Phoenix.

The insurance on J. J. Phoenix's building, recently destroyed by fire, has been adjusted and Mr. Phoenix began work yesterday clearing away the debris of the fire preparatory to rebuilding. The new building will be of brick, two stories high, with 72 feet front and 164 feet deep. Architect Woodroffe is now at work on the plans and so soon as they are completed the work will begin. The building is to be erected and equipped especially for the produce business and the minimum cost is to be $5,000.

A Creditable Record.

While Greensboro has been making a rather ugly fire record during the last sixty days, one of our local fire insurance agencies has been making a record of a very different kind.

Wharton and McAlister have since May 29th, the date of the big fire, adjusted losses under twenty-one different policies. These adjustments have all been made with the utmost care and precision, and at the same time with the greatest possible promptness, and to the entire satisfaction of all parties concerned. Every settlement has been made without the slightest hitch or misunderstanding, and our home insurance office is to be congratulated.

The news from France, England, and perhaps other countries, is that the new extreme tariff is regarded as strictly hostile to other countries and its whole system is that of commercial boycotting.

Henry A. Rucker, the colored collector of revenue at Atlanta, Ga., will take charge next Monday. His induction into office will probably be followed by wholesale resignation of the white subordinates.

Judge Goff has decided that Johns Hopkins University is not a preferred creditor in the B. & O. first 6 per cent stock. This is a serious blow to the University as it derived an annual income of $50,000 from this source.

Bradstreet's says among other things in its last report: "The widespread confidence that there will be a marked revival in general trade in the fall continues to grow, and with it a material evidence that it is well founded.

The rush to the Alaska gold fields is still on, and it is even greater than the rush to California in '49. Men are going wild and risking their all to reach this new Eldorado. There is no man in the United States Senate who knows more about gold mining than Jones, of Nevada. He tells his friends that from the best information that comes to him now the Alaska gold discoveries are likely to prove as rich as those in California did in 1848. California fields did not open nearly so favorably as have these new regions. The bearing of another great gold output at this time upon business conditions throughout the country is regarded by some of the best informed Senators as promising to do more for American prosperity than even the extraordinarily favorable condition of the wheat crop and wheat market of the world.

Greensboro Female College.

There are abundant indications that the coming year will be one of the most prosperous in the history of this old and honored institution—one that has educated so many of the brightest and best women in the State. Never before have so many applications been received for catalogues. President Dred Peacock is on the road constantly attending District Conferences.

With the prestige of its honorable past and a live man at its head it can but increase its usefulness as time passes.

SIMPSON-SHIELD SHOE CO.

Only Wholesale Shoe House in State. Why It Located in Greensboro.

Among the many new enterprises that have chosen Greensboro as the basis of operations in the last year or so, no one has begun with greater assurances of success than the Simpson-Shields Shoe Company.

The company was incorporated and opened up business here April 1st of this year. It is capitalized at $100,000 and has for its officers, A. D. Simpson, President; Caesar Cone, Vice-President, and M. L. Shields, Secretary. Mr. Shields was formerly in the wholesale grocery business in Knoxville, Tenn., and Mr. Simpson in Chatanooga.

This firm enjoys the distinction of being the only exclusively wholesale shoe house in North Carolina. It occupies a three story brick building 125 feet deep, and it is full of goods from basement to garret. It handles all kinds and grades of shoes and boots from the cowhide clod-crusher of the plow boy to the patent leather tooth pick of the "cholly."

While the majority of folks were busy in the calamity howling line these gentlemen set up shop, went in for business on up-to-date business methods and they are getting it. They have four live men on the road all the time and cover North Carolina, South Carolina, Virginia and Tennessee. THE TELEGRAM man found them busy filling orders from all parts of this state and two others. They carry a $50,000 stock of goods, and though their terms are cash or 60 days, the secretary reported the volume of business of this month to be over three times that of the month of April. Each month has shown a most gratifying increase over the preceding.

One of the members of the firm, when asked his reasons for locating in Greensboro, replied that the main inducements were the excellent railroad facilities, reasonable freight rates and especially the fact that from Greensboro more merchants can be reached who make good paying customers than from any point in the state. His experience since here has justified his judgment. It speaks exceedingly well, both for this firm and for the section, that while the press was teeming with reports of failures and commercial journals monotonously repeated, week after week, "business dull," these gentlemen established a new business in a strange town and can show so phenomenal a growth in so short a period. It is a whole bundle of straws and the discerning man can scarcely fail to get on to the direction of the wind.

It means that the time is not far distant when others will see the same advantages that were patent to Messrs. Simpson and Shields and we shall have similar houses in other lines of business following their wise lead.

Roanoke College.

The forty-fourth year of Roanoke College was a successful one. The steady gain in the number of students is gratifying. During the last year students from fifteen States and two foreign countries attended Roanoke, North Carolina being well represented. Three Koreans were enrolled, one of whom, Surh Beung Kin, will be in the next Senior class. The college has a curriculum with elective studies, well adapted to suit the wants of all students. The instruction is thorough and the standard high. The faculty is composed of men of scholarship and successful experience. Few institutions offer so much at so little expense. The moral, social and religious advantages of Salem are unsurpassed. The catalogue of 62 pages shows that Roanoke is abreast of the times in its facilities and methods. For a copy of the catalogue, with the June Collegian, address the President, Dr. Julius D. Dreher, Salem, Va.

Dr. McIver at Mt. Airy.

Dr. McIver, President of the State Industrial and Normal College, of Greensboro, who has accomplished so much good for North Carolina in a brief space of time, delivered an address at the opera house Wednesday evening, 21st., on the subject of education to a fairly representative audience. Like his former effort here on the same subject a year or more ago, it was highly interesting and full of facts.

President McIver is one of the State's wisest and best men and, although ignorant ourselves, it will always afford us pleasure to listen to him whenever an opportunity is afforded.—Mt. Airy News.

Greensboro's Tennis Club.

Greensboro now has a live tennis club. The club has two excellent courts on West Washington street, opposite Col. W. H. Osborne's. Almost any fair afternoon you can find a rattling good game in progress there. We have some excellent material. Why not arrange with some neighboring town for a tennis tournament?

Thirty-one mechanics at the Norfolk & Western shops at Lambert's Point, Va., were arrested a few days ago for working on Sunday.

STATE NEWS.

Dick Morse and his gospel wagon are in Mt. Airy.

Judge Bryan being unwell, Judge McIver will hold Guilford court.

Hon. Hezekiah Gudger has been appointed Consul General to Panama.

The Salisbury Knitting mill, which has been idle for some time, has started up.

During the past year 240 houses have been built in Charlotte, with 112 now under way.

The annual convention of the State Liquor Dealers' Association will meet in Durham August 24-26.

The Charlotte News is having new Linotype machines put in. The News keeps up with the procession.

Mrs. Rebecca Richardson, living near Essex, N. C., was fired upon and wounded while asleep by an unknown assassin.

The survey of the Mooresville and Mocksville shortcut of the Southern railway is completed. This road will certainly be built.

M. M. Farr, one of the Populist magistrates of Cabarrus county, has been convicted of compounding a felony. He was fined and disqualified for office.

Col. Holt, having declined to accept the chief marshalship of the State Fair, Col. P. H. Lybrook, of Winston, also an aide-de-camp to Governor Russell, becomes marshal.

The Alaska gold fever has struck Salisbury, and two young men of that place—D. C. Tatum and a Mr. Jarvis—are preparing to join an expedition to the Klondyke.

The Standard is the name of a new paper soon to be started at Southport by C. Ed. Taylor. Since the suspension of the Leader some months ago Southport has been without a paper.

Smithfield Herald: "A large force of hands are here now, stopping at the Hotel de Gurley, engaged in placing the iron work of the new railroad bridge at Black Creek in position."

Governor Russell appoints as delegates to the Gulf and Inter-state Transportation Convention at Omaha, Sept. 2nd: D. A. Tompkins, R. J. Reynolds, Moses Cone, M. J. Corbett, H. E. Fries and S. Otho Wilson.

Newberne promises to become quite a successful leaf tobacco market. This is the first season, and the Newberne people are jubilant over the prospects. The opening sale will be held next Saturday.

Madison Observer: "Madison is to have a new establishment added to her list of industries. Mr. O. J. Cates is going to build a large factory to manufacture grain cradles in. There is no such establishment in this section of the country. Success to Mr. Cates."

Chief of Police M. E. Teague, of Winston, has been suspended by Mayor Crutchfield, on the charge of drinking, so says the Sentinel. The Mayor has appointed Officer White chief, pending the action of the city council next Monday night.

The County Union delivers itself of the following plaint: We learn that the county bonds sold at nine cents on the dollar. Is it possible that the bonds bearing 6 per cent. interest would not bring par when the whole of Harnett county is backing them?

Roxboro is about to have a telephone system. Parties in town this week soliciting patronage, almost enough has been received to guarantee the success of the undertaking. This is progress—with a good system of water works and telephone Roxboro is on the up grade.

There was considerable excitement in Asheville the past week owing to rumors that Mrs. W. J. Cocke, wife of the mayor, did not commit suicide but was murdered. There was thirty thousand dollars insurance on her life. Her body was exhumed Saturday. A coroner's jury in the case removes all suspicion of foul play.

"I am authorized by the Attorney General," said Superintendent C. H. Mebane a few days ago, "to say that slight irregularities will not vitiate the local taxation elections on the 10th of August, and that the people of the various townships should go ahead and hold the election in spite of these obstacles."

Some fishermen while dragging a sein in a creek in the upper end of Halifax county, dragged out the dead body of a white infant. It was evidently a case of infanticide and the neighbors are aroused. There is no clue pointing to the guilty mother, or other parties who had a hand in the affair.

State Labor Commissioner Hamrick has prepared the following comparative table of statistics: Number of cotton and woolen mills in North Carolina—1870, 33; 1880, 49; 1886, 80; 1894; 164; 1897, 211. Number of looms in mills in the State—1870, 618; 1880, 1,790, 1886, 4,071; 1894, 15,058; 1897, 22,615. Number of spindles—1870, 39,897; 1880, 92,385; 1886, 199,433; 1894, 703,997; 1897, 1,068,396.

THE TELEGRAM will only cost you 25 cents per month.

Dick Morse, the well known temperance and gospel lecturer, came in from Winston-Salem last night.

Winston Sentinel: The Salem Eagle Hose Company broke their record again in their practice on Main street yesterday afternoon.

On account of the tent meeting the usual evening services at West Market and Centenary churches will be omitted on tomorrow evening.

We would be glad if the pastors of the different city churches would hand in their Sunday appointments by 12 o'clock every Saturday.

J. Brown, of Winston, desires to know the whereabouts of his 16-year-old son, Tommie, who left home about two months ago for Asheboro, N. C.

Can you Telegram when you see it? If so, you ought to be convinced that THE GREENSBORO EVENING TELEGAM is a good thing. Subscribe now and get the latest telegraphic news.

The Baptist Young People's Union will give an entertainment next Tuesday night at the Cooper House, Washington street. The evening's program will consist of music, recitations, etc.

Granite rock is being piled up along West Market, preparatory to beginning work on that street. It is certainly needed sadly enough, as the street becomes almost impassable in rainy weather.

Mr. John Weems, one of the firemen on the C. F. and Y. V. road, has moved his family to Fayetteville, going down with them yesterday. Mrs. Kelle, Mr. Weems' mother-in-law, went down to-day.

W. A. Wingate & Co., agents for Hartford and Columbia bicycles, report that they have sold twenty wheels since the recent drop in prices. People always prefer the bests when not beyond their means.

The members of Greensboro Council, No. 13, Jr. O. U. A. M., are preparing to celebrate their fourth anniversary, which will be on the 19th of August, with appropriate exercises. A pleasant time is anticipated.

Wakefield Hardware Company's horse got a little gay yesterday afternoon and started from their store on South Elm and randown West Washington until the dray was demolished. No other damage was done.

Mr. J.W. Merritt, who was in Asheboro Thursday, informs us that while making an effort to escape from the road force, which was working near Asheboro, one of the county convicts was shot in the foot Thursday afternoon.

L. B. Lindau has moved his stock back to his old stand in the Katz building. This has been especially fitted up for him and when the final touches have been added it will be one of the neatest and handsomest store rooms on the street.

The firemen of Winston-Salem have decided to come to this city over the Southern Railway. They will arrive in the city at 11.40. They will join "our boys" and go on the special firemen's train over the C. F. and Y. V. road, leaving here at 1 p. m.

The Cone Export and Commission Company report the demand for certain classes of their goods—notably the kind used in the manufacture of overalls—greater than they can supply, with their present capacity. They have accordingly ordered 40 new looms that will be set up at once.

One of the nobbiest teams ever seen in Greensboro is the neat little pony and phaeton of little Miss Paisley Ellington, daughter of Capt. Neil Ellington. She was out driving with it yesterday afternoon for the first time. She was the source of much admiration and the recipient of many compliments.

Choir practice at Rev. J. W. Lee's tent tonight at 8:30 o'clock. All invited. Preparatory services tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. At 8 o'clock there will be preaching by Rev. J. W. Lee, the evangelist. Services at 10 o'clock every morning and at 8 p. m., every evening during the coming week.

Darden has moved into new quarters at 340 South Elm. His entire stock of 5000 pairs of shoes is being sold at greatly reduced prices. He is certainly offering some remarkable bargains and those in need of anything in his line will do well to call before the choicest are gone. Read what he says elsewhere.

We acknowledge the receipt of an invitation to attend the reception at West's Park Monday night, given in honor of Mr. H. W. Cobb, the retiring President of the Greensboro Industrial Association. This is a matter worthy the attention of our best people, for Mr. Cobb's leaving the city is a source of regret to everybody in Greensboro.

HIGH POINT IS GROWING.

NO BOOM, BUT A STEADY AND HEALTHY GROWTH.

Many New Enterprises Being Established--Interesting Local and Personal Happenings.

Special to THE TELEGRAM.

HIGH POINT, N. C., July 31.—In the first issue of THE GREENSBORO EVENING TELEGRAM, which is itself a mile post in the progress of this section of the State, it is not out of place to publish a few facts concerning the progressive little city of High Point. High point is indeed made up of facts. There is nothing visionary here. Her advancement has not been phenomonal; but it has been slow, steady and sure. Her citizens have pushed her to the front without resorting to any of those artificial means which cause so many towns to boom, bubble and burst.

A spoke and handle factory was the first to be established here. Later on, and in rapid succession, companies were formed for the manufacture of sashes, blinds, cotton, tobacco, lumber, furniture, machinery, baskets, chairs, mattresses, hosiery, plaid goods, brick, cigars, roller mill products, bed springs, coffins, upholstery, etc.

Mr. J. J. Farris, editor of the Enterprise, has issued an excellent little book entitled "High Point, North Carolina." In it we find the following: "No serious difficulty has ever occurred, an only one town officer is required to keep the peace among the 3,500 people." There are two policemen now and the population has increased to at least 4,000. Reading further in this statement: "The city owns its electric light plant, pronouneed to be one of the best in the South, and is self-supporting—the only case on record where a city furnishes 40 arc lights without cost to the tax payers."

To still further quote from this High Point Hand Book, we find a most remarkable statement, and one which easily accounts for the fact that "no serious difficulty has ever occurred." it is this: "There are no bar-rooms in High Point and never has been. The charter of the town has always prohibited issuing license." Away back in '59, it is true, there was a grog-shop here, but citizens in righteous anger tore it down, and a curse hangs over the head of any one who attempts to re-lay the foundation.

High Point is noted for its enterprise in more senses of the word than one. It is already a leading manufacturing town in North Carolina, and still the factories go up. A coffin factory on the eastern side of the railroad, below the Southern depot is under way and almost completed. Other industries are expected to start up in the near future. One of these will be for the manufacture of extension tables, which will begin operations next Monday. Mr. John Marsh is president of this company, Mr. W. B. Steele, vice-president, and Mr. E. D. Steele, secretary and treasurer. It is called "The High Point Table Co.," and has a paid-in capital of $15,000. They have a large brick factory 40x100 ft., two stories high, a drying room 30x70 ft., a brick boiler room 40x40 ft.; and a ware-room 40x100 ft. will be erected at once. This company will manufacture all kinds of high grade tables. They have a sixty horse power automatic engine, and an eights horse power boiler. The machinery is all new and of the latest and best make. The furnace was fired up yesterday for drying out lumber, a large supply of which is on hand.

The Bank of Randolph is the name of Asheboro's new bank which will be opened about the first of September. At a meeting of the stockholders last Monday the following directors were elected: J. M. Worth, W. J. Armfield, Joseph Parkin, P. H. Morris, W. P. Wood, C. C. McAlister, J. M. Milikan, C. J. Cox, Hugh Parks, O. R. Cox, W. H. Watkins, B. Moffitt, A. M. Rankin, F. E. Asbury and A. W. E. Capel. Dr. J. M. Worth was elected president and W. J. Armfield, Jr., ceshier. Mr. W. J. Armfield, Jr., at present occuples the position of bookkeeper at the National Bank of High Point. The people of High Point regret that he is to leave, but we are glad to know of his promotion. Our loss is Asheboro's gain.

In September the High Point Graded school will open in, it is safe to say, the finest school building in North Carolina. It is being built of light gray granite and pressed brick to match. This brick was made by the Powhatan Clay Co., of Richmond, Va., and the granite comes from the Mount Airy Granite Quarry, whose headquarters are in Greensboro.

Mr. Frank Gurley has just obtained a patent on a very ingenious device by means of which every man can keep up with the time. It is an attachment which placed upon a clock will alarm at a given time before the clock runs completely down. Thus if the clock is always wound up at the proper time, this alarm will be silent forever, but if there is any delay it will make its voice heard with a vengence.

High Point's 4,000 people should have the news every day. The way in which they are taking hold of THE TELEGRAM is enother evidence of their progressive spirit. When business is over you can sit down in your home and read what has happened during the day in High Point and all over the world. The subscription price for THE TELEGRAM is only 25 cents a month. Let those who have not subscribed give in their names at once.

Dr. D. A. Stanton was called to Bessemer City last Wednesday to treat a patient who was very low with typhoid fever.

The residence of Mr. A. S. Tate near the railroad, in the southern part of town, is nearing completion.

Miss Minnie Hamlet, of Greensboro, is on a visit to Miss Mamie Jordan here.

If you have any news or have any one visiting at your house, just call up 'phone 59 and tell THE TELEGRAM man about it. He has a nose for news.

Mr. W. J. Martin, formerly of the Raleigh Tribune, has been in High Point during the past week getting out an illustrated High Point edition of the Southern Business Record.

Mr. H. H. Cartland, of Greensboro, was in town Friday.

Leave your subscriptions for THE TELEGRAM at A. S. Ellison's job printing office.

Mr. Victor Humphrey, of Lexington, spent Thursday night in High Point.

Henry Craven, of Concord, is here on a visit to Leslie Cartland.

An excursion managed by colored people will be run from Lexington to Raleigh Monday.

The High Point base ball team received a drubbing at the hands of the Reidsville boys Thursdey. Reidsville will play here Tuesday and Wednesday and we expect our boys to beat. Go out and encourage them.

The many admirers of Rev. John Klttrel, who is very popular throughout Guilford county, will be glad to know that he will attend the Yearly Meeting here this year. Among others who will probably be visitors in High Point next week, are Allen Jay, of Richmond, Ind.; J. Walter Malone, of Cleveland, O.; Amos Kenworthy, of Indiana; William P. Pinkham, and Jesse McPherson. These Friends will also attend the Friends' Biblical Institute, which will be held this year at New Gerden Meeting House, Guilford county, N. C., instead of Blue Ridge Mission, commencing August 11th, 1897, and is expected to last ten days.

Messrs. J. E. Walker and J. T. Bostick left Asheboro for Washington City Thursday, in response to a telegram from Dr. T. Carl Walker, who is there sick.

Rev. Ishida, of Japan, will give a lecture in the Methodist church next Thursday evening upon the customs of the Japanese.

The three cases of appendicitis operated on last week by Drs. Long and Stanton, are all recovering.

Miss Emma Phipps, of Durham, and Miss Eunace Morton and Mrs. Williams, of Thomasville, are visiting the family of Rev. J. M. Hilliard.

Miss Sallie Millis is on a visit to Mrs. James Pou, at Smithfield.

Dr. Dred Peacock passed through High Point yesterday, going out to Trinity for a few days rest.

Prof. Geo. Pegram, of Durham, passed through yesterday morning returng home from a visit to Trinity.
